

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

NO FRIENDSHIP FOR THE TROLLEY SYSTEM.
Messrs. Winslow, Briggs and Marcan, the commissioners appointed to report to the Supreme Court on the application of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company for permission to use the trolley electric system along the southwest side of Prospect Park from the Ocean Parkway to Ninth-st., heard testimony yesterday. Sidney V. Lowell wished to introduce a written statement by Rollo Edridge, an expert in evidence. He was not allowed to do so, but was permitted to have it read. The statement said that the only argument in favor of the trolley was its cheapness. It was dangerous and the voltage necessary to injure a person varied greatly. Horses were killed last week by a falling wire at East New York.

HE DID NOT EXPECT TO PAY THE $4,000.
Some peculiar political proceedings were brought to light in the City Court yesterday in a suit brought by Patrick H. Flynn to eject John Douglas from possession of a house in the Greenpoint section of the city, No. 100 Greenpoint-st. Mr. Douglas was formerly a Democratic Assemblyman, and he has lived in the house in question for twenty-seven years. He owed the mortgage on the house to John Douglas, who was pressing for his money. He went to John Douglas, then Alderman and now candidate for State Senator, who offered to give him $4,000, but asked for the deed of the house as security for the loan. As he had done political favors for Douglas, he did not suppose Mr. Douglas would ever ask him for the money. But recently Mr. Douglas began to demand it, and finally asked Mr. Flynn to give him the deed. Mr. Douglas said that if he gave Mr. Douglas anything, it was $4,000, and the equity of the property, some $2,000, belonged to him. Mr. Douglas was in court, but was not called as a witness.

FOR A NEW PARK IN THE EIGHTH WARD.
At the meeting of the Park Commissioners yesterday the subject of a new park in the Eighth Ward, in South Brooklyn, was discussed. Alexander Waldron proposed the plot bounded by Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth sts. and Fifth and Seventh aves., and argued that by its picturesque surface, lakes and scenery it could easily be made into a fine park. Daniel Moynihan argued for the plot bounded by Forty-sixth and Forty-ninth sts. and the same avenues as possessing superior features for park uses, and as having been selected when it was proposed to place one of the new small parks there a year or two ago.

SHE MARRIED A SONG-AND-DANCE MAN.
Mrs. Fannie McMillan, the divorced wife of Charles McMillan, a well-to-do cigar manufacturer, and the granddaughter of the late John Brock, president of the Williamsburg Savings Bank, has been married. Her present husband is James Gordon Sparks, a song-and-dance man with the "High Roller" company, now travelling through the West. Her marriage to her former husband, Mr. McMillan, five years ago was a brilliant affair. She was an accomplished young woman of eighteen years, and had many admirers. Their marriage, however, was not a happy one, and a year ago Mrs. McMillan secured a divorce. Having theatrical ambitions, she joined a company, and, to the astonishment of her former admirers, she appeared nightly in the ballet. This season she joined the "High Roller" troupe and was one of the star performers. She is the daughter of a wealthy family. On Wednesday a letter was received in Brooklyn from Mrs. McMillan, by one of her old schoolmates, in which she said that her marriage to Sparks and spoke of her happiness.

IS "BOSS" McLAUGHLIN RESPONSIBLE?
At last night's meeting of the Fifteenth Ward Taxpayers' Association of Brooklyn, touching on the New York Creek nuisances, it was alleged that "Boss" McLaughlin had an interest in the extension of $50,000. In certain bills, it was claimed, that the extension of $50,000 was declared that he had been told of good authority that the reason the matter had not come to light before was due to the fact that none of the city officials had dared to report the matter for fear of getting into trouble.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.
Special Officer Julius Driver, who assaulted David Kramer, of No. 24 Second-st., during the services of Yom Kippur at Teutonia Hall, was arraigned before Justice Goetting yesterday, and held in $500 bail for trial. President Simon Danton, of the Congregation Ashaf Israel, who, Mr. Kramer alleges, assisted in the attack made upon him and for whom a warrant was issued, had not been arrested last night.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Haskins, pastor of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church, Bedford-ave. and South Fifth-st., entered on the fifty-third year of his ministry on Wednesday. Dr. Haskins, settled in old Williamsburg just after his ordination, at the age of twenty-seven, and was appointed to take charge of St. Mark's parish, where he has since remained. David Longworth, the original sexton of the church, is still serving the congregation in the same capacity.

1. Remsen Dileman, who was paralyzed in a law office on Wednesday, died yesterday at his home, No. 164 Jefferson-ave. He was fifty-eight years old, and a son of County Judge Dileman, who served in 1830-'33 and 1863 to 1867.

Judge Osborne yesterday, in the City Court, granted a decree of separation, with custody of the children and $12 a week alimony, to Mrs. Maria D. Fuhr from Frank Fuhr. The husband brought the suit for absolute divorce, and Mrs. Fuhr brought a counter-suit to the same effect, and also the suit for separation on the ground of cruelty. The other two complaints were dismissed.

Surrogate Abbott yesterday took testimony on the probate of the will of Peter Quinn, of Malin-st., who left the bulk of his estate, valued at $20,000, to his second wife, who was much younger than himself. The children contest the will on the ground that Quinn was easily influenced and drank a great deal. Matthew Bunce, a son-in-law, gave the most startling testimony when he said: "I have seen Mr. Quinn get up and dance a jig on the floor when he was not able to move about."

Roland Stafford Dawson, a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, was ordained and installed as the pastor of the Atlantic Street Presbyterian Church yesterday. Mr. Dawson accepted a call from the congregation several months ago, the pulpit becoming vacant by the retirement of the Rev. A. Z. Conrad, who is now pastor of a church in Worcester, Mass. The Rev. Dr. R. R. Meredith preached the sermon, while the charge to the pastor was made by the Rev. Dr. Lewis R. Foote, and the charge to the people by the Rev. Dr. Alfred H. Momen.

A DRUNKEN POLICEMAN'S FOLLY.
Patrick F. Grady, a policeman of the East Twenty-second-st. station, sent his resignation, accompanied by his shield and fire key, to the Police Commissioners yesterday. Grady did the first tour of duty on Wednesday night, and at midnight left the station to go home. On his way he was stopped in a number of liquor-shops. At 3 o'clock he was tearing around in a milk-wagon, in uniform, and afterward he jumped on board a second-ave. street-car. Policeman Grady, of 22 East Fifty-third-st., station, was summoned by the conductor of the car, and found Grady grossly drunk. He was attempting to drive out the passengers and threatened to knock the conductor off the car. He was locked up for the night, and appeared in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday morning, where he was fined $5. He knew that it would be useless to shield a trial before the Police Commissioners, and immediately sent in his resignation.

OPENING THE LIBERTY NATIONAL BANK.
The Liberty National Bank opened its doors for business yesterday at No. 143 Liberty-st., in the big building erected by the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The railroad company and its friends are backers of the new bank, which starts with a capital of $200,000. The officers are: President, Henry C. Tinker; vice-president, Henry Graves; cashier, James Christie. The directors, besides Mr. Tinker and Mr. Graves, are George F. Baker, H. C. Finkelschlag and James A. Geland, of the Fourth National Bank; J. Rogers Maxwell, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; E. C. Augusto da Costa, Charge d'Affaires of Brazil, has received an official dispatch dated Rio Janeiro, October 13, declaring that all alarming rumors about Brazil are without foundation and are the inventions of speculators in the Exchange and the enemies of the Republic. The President, the dispatch says, is nearly well. The general condition of the country is more prosperous than ever before.

About 200 enthusiastic alumnae of the Troy Female Seminary met at the Plaza Hotel yesterday at 2 p. m. This was said to be the first general meeting of the alumnae held since the founding of the institution seventy years ago. Mrs. Russell Sage presided. Mrs. Emma Willard Sender then read a paper, giving a history of her grandmother's life and work. Wilcox, one of the oldest teachers in the institution, was then listened to with attention. At the close of the exercises, the oldest living graduate of the seminary, Mrs. C. T. Langdon, eighty-four years of age, of the class of '28, led the way to the elegantly decorated luncheon-room, with Miss Annie Lomax, of Troy, of the class of '91, on her arm.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION MEET.

TRANSFERRED THEIR ALLEGIANCE FROM THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

A special meeting of the Society of the Daughters of the Revolution, founded about a year ago by Mrs. F. A. Darling, was held yesterday afternoon at Mrs. E. P. Steers's house, No. 2,076 Fifth-ave. The main object of the meeting was to dissolve the Daughters Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. This was done, and the board Chapter of the new society was organized, all the members of the old chapter becoming members of the new one.

Mrs. Darling founded the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution several years ago, and until last spring remained its head. A year ago trouble arose over the management, and Mrs. Darling organized the new society. In the early part of last summer she was removed from her office by the National Board of the old society in Washington. The main difference between the rival societies is that the Daughters of the American Revolution admit only descendants of Revolutionary soldiers, sailors or civil officers, while the Daughters of the Revolution admit only blood descendants.

The officers of the new society were elected yesterday. They are Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, founder and director-general; Mrs. E. P. Steers, managing director-general; Mrs. Dr. Wm. Clinton Mather, curator-general; Mrs. J. C. Casey, registrar-general; Mrs. Robert H. Smith, recorder-general; Mrs. D. P. Phoenix, program-general; corresponding secretary-general; Mrs. Chauncey S. Truax, treasurer-general; Mrs. Leroy Smith, historian-general.

THE UNION VETERAN CONVENTION ADJOURNS.
Reading, Penn., Oct. 15.—The National convention of the Union Veteran Convention reconvened in secret session this forenoon, with over 250 delegates in attendance. The different officers presented their final reports. A proposition to create one of the National officers life members of the National Encampment met with great opposition, and was voted down by a large majority. It was decided to reduce the per capita tax from ten to five cents a member, so as to reduce the large amount in the treasury. The resolution asking that President Harrison remove Pension Commissioner Baum was postponed indefinitely. There were a number of candidates for National commander, but the contest narrowed down to three. The fourth and final ballot resulted: Colonel Joseph E. Palmer, of Brooklyn, 89; J. C. Allen, of Philadelphia, 35; General Daniel Hastings, of New York, 32. Colonel Palmer was declared elected. The National Ladies' Auxiliary of the Union Veteran League elected officers.

The convention finally adjourned this afternoon. The resolution in favor of giving soldiers preference in government employment was passed.

NEWS FROM NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

LOSS OF MONEY DROVE HIM TO SUICIDE.

William Schultz, sixty-two years old, of No. 21 Cliff-st., committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself. Schultz, about a year ago, gave to the pastor of the First Lutheran Church, the Rev. Conrad Jung, $1,575 to invest for him. The minister, so Schultz said, failed to make any accounting of the money and refused to return it. Schultz obtained a warrant for the pastor's arrest. The minister had invested the money and lost it. He said that he had invested the money and lost it. He was finally released on bail and soon after went to Rochester. Schultz obtained a judgment against Mr. Jung for $1,575, but was unable to collect it. Since the loss of his money his youngest daughter Louise had kept him by making shirts. Both lived in a single room.

Schultz had a fear that some day he would be taken to the almshouse. His troubles weighed heavily upon him, and rising yesterday morning at 10 o'clock he went to a woodshed, where he hanged himself. Mrs. Milbrant, covered at 9 o'clock by a fellow-tenant, Mrs. Milbrant, who left him hanging and went to Schultz's lawyer's office and from there called down about four hours after he hanged himself.

LADIES DAY AT A POPULAR CLUB.

MANHATTAN ATHLETES OVERRUIN BY A THROG OF CHARMING VISITORS.

The handsome home of the Cherry Diamond athletes never before presented such an attractive spectacle as it did yesterday. It was the first Ladies' Day of the Manhattan Athletic Club and all the pretty maidens and handsome matrons of the metropolitan district seemed to be present.

The reception lasted from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 6, and the handsome edifice was crowded from the bowling alleys to the roof-garden. In fact, the whole house was turned over to the visitors, and during the afternoon between 10,000 and 12,000 people were present.

Unlike former entertainments of this kind, there was no athletic exhibition, the programme consisting of a promenade concert and an exhibition of paintings and old Chinese porcelains lent by George A. Hearn. The art treasures were distributed in the reading-room, reception room, hanging hall and cafe.

Among the paintings exhibited were works by J. C. Cazin, W. B. Ruggier, Rosa Bonheur, N. Diaz, Harry Chase, F. S. Church, William M. Hartnet, H. Bolton Jones, Leonard Ochtman, H. Siddons Mowbray, George Innes, Thomas Moran and F. D. Millet.

The pieces of old Chinese porcelain were of the Chien-Lung, Tso-Kwang, Kangsi and Chia-Ching periods. Two Hungarian bands played lively music in close alternation; one on the parlor floor led by Hazy, Noly and one on the theatre stage by Sarkozy Menyes as leader.

The reception committee was composed of the entire Board of Governors and a number of members. Among those present were Mrs. George W. Carr, Mrs. William J. Swan, Mrs. S. J. Cornell, Mrs. C. Perry, Mrs. Warren Sage, Mrs. H. S. V. Schack, Mrs. R. F. Wary, Miss Garrison, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. C. E. Frutiger, Mrs. H. A. Stoll, Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, Mrs. John R. Pryor, Miss Stuart, Mrs. A. T. ATHLETIC INSTRUCTION FOR WOMEN.

Yesterday was visitors' day at the Berkeley Ladies' Athletic Association. Guests of the members were invited to be present at the exercises, between 11 and 12 o'clock, of the autumn class, at the club. The entertainment witnessed in the spacious and splendid gymnasium, which occupies the entire upper floor, impressed those present as reflecting much credit upon the management of this class of fourteen women, ranging in age from sixteen to thirty.

Considerable excellence was shown in the bending motions of the De-la-Tour system. The costume, which consists of dark blue Turkish pantaloons gathered about the knee, loose blouses, embellished with fine graduated bands of gold braid, black hose and low tennis shoes, is admirably adapted to a great variety of free movements of the limbs, including swinging, jumping, parallel bars, chest weights and a number of calisthenic motions.

A physician directed the amount and nature of exercise in each individual case, a physical examination and measurement being undergone on the admission of a member to the club. In the tiled plunge-bath swimming lessons are given in classes, and there are also private lessons for those who desire them.

The object of the association is to promote the physical culture of women and to encourage athletic sports and provide facilities for the study and recreation of its members. The club was opened with a membership of 475 women, and the membership is limited to 500.

BERKELEY OVAL, exclusively for the use of the club, will have a small kitchen with a set range, where any number of members may entertain a small party of friends on pleasant days. Nine or ten dozen classes have been formed this autumn, including some very little girls. The course of athletic training lasts four years.

Chicago, Oct. 15 (Special).—At a meeting held to-day the United States Warehousemen's Association was organized. "Our purpose," said Percy Thompson, manager of three large warehouses at Kansas City, "is to establish such a system of business among the responsible warehousemen of the United States as will gain for them in commercial circles the respect and esteem they are entitled to."

The association will have a capital of $100,000, and will have a small kitchen with a set range, where any number of members may entertain a small party of friends on pleasant days. Nine or ten dozen classes have been formed this autumn, including some very little girls. The course of athletic training lasts four years.

READING PAPERS ON PEDAGOGY.

An interesting meeting of the Society of Pedagogy was held at the College of the City of New-York yesterday afternoon. The subject for discussion was "Intuition," as outlined in "Rosenkranz" by Dr. Paul Hofmann. As a superintendent of Public Schools, opened the discussion with a paper on "Drawing." Henry W. Jameson, also superintendent of public schools, followed with an essay on "Music." The official exercises ended with Wilbur F. Hudson's paper on "Reading." The various papers were discussed by the members of the society, many of whom were present. At the next meeting of the society, November 18, H. G. O'Neil will read a paper on "Method in Geometry."

The Boards of Directors of the two corporations known as the New-York and New-Jersey Bridge Company, one of which is the New-York City Bridge Company, met yesterday morning in the office of the New-York City Bridge Company, at No. 214 Broadway, and agreed to consolidate the two companies for mutual benefit. In order to raise the money necessary for bridging the Hudson from New-York City to New-Jersey, the companies agreed to issue coupon bonds, secured by a first mortgage, covering the amount of $3,000,000 per year, and to issue coupon bonds, secured by a first mortgage, covering the amount of $3,000,000 per year, and to issue coupon bonds, secured by a first mortgage, covering the amount of $3,000,000 per year.
